The Remington

Creates or Acquires Everything Worth While in Typewriters

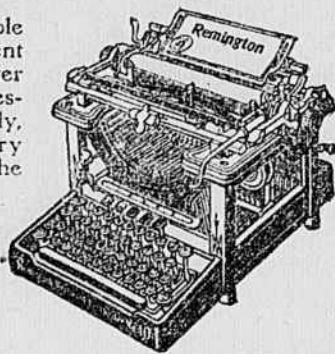

The No. 10 and No. 11 Visible Remington Models represent the sum total of all typewriter achievement—past and present. They not only supply, but they anticipate every need of every user of the writing machine.

They supply Visible Writing under new conditions—without sacrifice of strength, durability or efficiency. These Visible Remingtons have the drop-forged type bars, the wide pivot bearings, and every other distinctive feature on which Remington supremacy is based.

They have other features, new to the Remington and new to the writing machine. The Column Selector, the Built-in Tabulator, the Tabulator Set Key and the Adding and Subtracting Typewriter are the very latest contributions to typewriter progress.

FORTY THOUSAND TAKE CARS HOME

More Than That Came From Fair Last Night Without Undue Crowding.

Richmond day attendance at the State Fair yesterday was approximately that of last year, when Richmond day broke all previous attendance figures. General Manager Mark R. Lloyd said at midnight that 40,000 people had been in the grounds during the day, and with prospects for bright weather today, he predicted that the attendance for the week would far exceed that of any previous fair.

The Virginia Railway and Power Company hauled from the grounds approximately 41,000 people. One of the machine counters gave away after that figure had been reached, so exact figures will not be accessible until actual tickets have been counted. Last year on Richmond day, the car company hauled away 41,371 people. Because of rain on the two opening days the attendance this year is slightly behind that of last year by street car figures. On Monday, last year, 5,927 people passed through the turnstiles against 5,773 this year, and on Tuesday, 13,533 against 11,991 this year.

But the street car company does not haul all who go to the fair. Thousands pass through the Hermitage Road gates nearer the city, and many go in motor cars and vehicles. Officials and visitors at the fair yesterday were highly complimentary of the street car service rendered, no congestion being noticed, notwithstanding the great crowds, people being hauled away from the grounds late in the afternoon at the rate of 10,000 an hour without confusion or undue crowding. Last year many waited for the aeroplane ascension, and when it over there was a great rush. Yesterday the crowd drifted back to the city as it drifted out, most of those coming and going being seated, while there was always an abundance of cars in waiting. The baseball game interfered little with the fair crowd, as it was noticed by street car officials that fully 2,000 of those at the game went from there to the fair grounds, while many other visitors at the ball park were at the fair last night.

DAUGHTERS FORM SECOND CHAPTER

New Organization of Confederate Women Planned in Richmond.

Application was made at the meeting of the State convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Roanoke last week for a charter for a new chapter in Richmond. The charter was granted, the application having been endorsed by Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, president of the Richmond Chapter.

Mrs. Andrew Jackson Montague made the request for the charter. She stated that plans are under way for the perfection of the organization of a large chapter, which she believes will be composed of 400 members. Ditties were asked for four members of Richmond Chapter at a meeting held yesterday morning of those who desire to unite with the new body. They are Mrs. E. H. Clowes, Mrs. Charles A. R. M. Simon and Mrs. A. J. Montague.

Up to this time Richmond has had but one chapter, with a membership of about 600. The formation of a new body is looked upon with some apprehension by some of the Confederate women of Richmond, in the fear that the energies of the members will be divided. Others think there is plenty of work for two chapters to do.

Convention Program. Yesterday's meeting was taken up in the main in consideration of preparation for the coming national convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will be held in Richmond early next month. The following program has been outlined: Convention opens Tuesday evening, November 7, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Academy of Music, with opening ceremonies and address of welcome.

Wednesday morning, November 8, 10 A. M. business session in Jefferson auditorium. 1 P. M., adjourn for luncheon in Second Baptist Church; 2 P. M., resume business session; 5:30 to 6:30 P. M., reception at home for needy Confederate women; 9 to 11 P. M., reception at the Jefferson to officers and delegates to the convention and distinguished visitors.

Thursday, 10 A. M. business session in Jefferson auditorium; 1 P. M., luncheon in Second Baptist Church; automobile trip in afternoon, followed by reception at Confederate Museum from 5 to 7; historical evening in Jefferson auditorium at 8:15 o'clock, with Mrs. J. Enders Robinson as chairman.

Friday, 10 A. M. business session; 1 P. M., luncheon; 2 P. M., business session; reception at Lee Camp Hall; 8:30 P. M., at which Richmond Chapter will be hostesses, and guests will include all delegates, members of chapter, officers and Confederate organizations in city.

Saturday, 10 A. M., conclusion of business.

STILL WORKING FOR FREE BOOKS

Advocates Would Use Increased State Taxes for This Purpose.

Figuring that Virginia will have an income tax of $1,000,000 more than for the previous year, the advocates of the proposition to supply free books in the public schools are advancing the proposition that this money could be used for launching their plan. It would accomplish this result, they say, without increasing taxes at all.

It is certain that there will be strenuous opposition to the purchase of free books by the State on the part of leading men. It is figured that it would mean buying hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of books for the negroes, and thus add to the percentage of cost of the education of the colored people paid by the white citizens of Virginia.

Get Local Option. However, it may be predicted that a bill giving to cities and counties local option in the matter can be easily passed. This would permit the passage of such an ordinance as that offered in Richmond by Councilman Fuller, provided it were first ratified by a vote of the people of the city. The same would apply to the counties.

State Organizer John L. Dege says that he has ascertained from the office of the State Auditor that the new assessment of real and personal property in Virginia, subject to the general and school taxes, amounts to $847,377,427.54, an increase of nearly $250,000 over the last assessment. Mr. Dege presumably means to take into consideration the new realty valuation as compared with five years ago, and the personal assessment of 1910, as compared with the previous year, since the figures for 1911 have not as yet been compiled. He adds:

Looks Into Past. "Several years ago a committee was appointed by the Legislature to inquire into the high cost of books in Virginia. Speaker Richard E. Byrd, Aubrey E. Strode and Edwin P. Cox composed the committee. This committee reported that one publisher had testified that, owing to the peculiar method of adoption established in Virginia, the publishers were put to an extra expense of $250,000. The great sum was, of course, added to the actual cost and usual profit on the books. The peculiar conditions were the same to-day as they were then. "The committee further reported that they could find no intelligent reason for the frequent changes, so changes were cut out and now the new books are simply added to those the children already possessed. The added burden was the same that the changed book did, so the publishers get the same amount."

Can Cancer Be Cured? IT CAN

The record of the Kellam Hospital is without parallel in history, having cured to stay cured permanently, without the use of the knife or X-ray, over 90 per cent. of the many hundreds of sufferers from cancer which it has treated during the past fifteen years.

We have been endorsed by the Senate and Legislature of Virginia. We guarantee our cures.

STRICKEN ON CAR

Samuel Oliver Died Before Being Removed to St. Luke's Hospital.

Samuel Oliver, of 220 South Belvidere Street, was stricken with apoplexy on a street car last night returning from the State Fair grounds, and died within a few minutes. Mr. Oliver was about forty-five years of age, and was in his usual good health apparently during the day. He left the fair grounds in company with his brother-in-law, Mr. Mason, between 9:30 and 10 o'clock. While running along the long stretch from the fair grounds, Mr. Oliver was seen to reel forward as though fainting. Mr. Mason asked that the car be stopped, but the conductor said his orders were to make no stop until reaching Robinson and Broad Streets. At that point Mr. Oliver was lifted from the car, and there were still signs of life. He was put into a passing automobile and the physicians, called to the scene, were hurried to St. Luke's Hospital, where he died. Later examination last night showed death to have been occasioned by apoplexy. He leaves a wife, but no children, and several brothers and sisters, who make their home at New Perry, Va. He will be buried from the old family home at New Perry, Va., to-morrow.

Engagement Announced. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Leesburg, Va., October 11.—The engagement of Miss Mabel Vandevanter, daughter of Addison Vandevanter, of Paconian Springs, to Robert McCray, of Hamilton, is announced, and the marriage will be celebrated in January at the Episcopal Church in Hamilton.
